Public Law 92–358, dated July 28, 1972, amended subsection 102(d) of Title 35 United States Code, to provide that a prior grant of an inventor's certificate, in addition to prior patenting of the invention in a foreign country, may give rise to a statutory bar. As amended, the subsection reads as follows:

> "(d) the invention was first patented or caused to be patented, or was the subject of an inventor's certificate, by the applicant or his legal representatives or assigns in a foreign country prior to the date of the application for patent in this country on an application for patent or inventor's certificate filed more than twelve months before the filing of the application in the United States, or".

By the terms of the statute, the above amendment shall take effect six months from the date when Articles 1–12 of the Paris Convention of March 20, 1883, for the Protection of Industrial Property, as revised at Stockholm, July 14, 1967, come into force with respect to the United States and shall apply to applications filed thereafter in the United States. Since the treaty entered into force with respect to the U.S. on August 25, 1973, the above amendment became effective February 25, 1974.
